CELLAR AGED WINES

The Marsovin Wine Bank is one of the main attractions of the Marsovin cellars, an area dedicated to the ageing of a select range of our premium wines. Every year the winemaker lays down these wines for further ageing in the bottle where they rest and mature. The wine bank stores Grand Maître, Primus, Guže, Antonin, Marnisi and Cheval Franc. This wine bank was first set up in the early nineties. Early vintages of Grand Maître and Marsovin first Cabernet Sauvignon, can be found ageing gracefully in the ideal temperature, light and humidity controlled conditions.

The ageing of these wines allows the winery to assess the quality of its wines over the long term. In fact, every 2 years the wine maker together with a tasting panel assess the quality of the wines. Assessing these wines for a longer period of time allows the winery to get a true sense of the ageing potential of each wine and every vintage. Notes are taken and published through the winery newsletters every year.

A Flagship for Maltese Wine

The Marsovin Winery felt that the local wine industry ought to be given a premium level wine made from the indigenous red grape - Ġellewża. After years of intuitive experimentation and dedication, the first Imqadded Ta' Malta was produced; a carefully thought-out blend of Ġellewża and Shiraz grapes coming together to create PRIMUS. The grapes are hand-picked just as they reach full ripeness in September, they are then left untouched in grape crates to sun dry on the winery's roof. During this time, the grapes are naturally dehydrated by the elements, adding to the concentration of aromas. Around the beginning of October, the grapes are softly pressed, and left to ferment in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks. The resulting wine is transferred into 225Ltr new French oak barrels and left to rest and mature at the Marsovin Cellars for a period of 17 months.

Primus is a deeply concentrated ruby-purple coloured wine displaying distinct tears with intense aromas of dried fruits and amarena cherries, marrying well with new oak barrel flavours of vanilla, cinnamon and nutmeg leaving a very pleasant lingering off dry finish. When dining one must make sure that the right food is chosen to compliment Primus' strong character. This wine is best paired with beef, game and stews. Primus also works well with strongly flavoured, sharp and very ripe cheeses such as Artisanal Pecorino Romano, aged Gorgonzola and Parmigiano Reggiano - the king of cheeses.

Primus was created to represent the first premium Maltese wine to be produced from the grape variety, Ġellewża and by doing so raising the standard and developing the identity of our indigenous Maltese varieties.

MARNOWIN

The desire to nurture the winery's exceptional qualities has shaped Marsovin's philosophy over the past 100 years. This wine is a cuvée of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Cabernet Franc, Syrah, and Gellewza Imqadded, a faithful expression of a unique blend developed to portray the very best of the 2017 vintage. To commemorate this special occasion, Marsovin has produced a series of large format bottles, all packaged by hand at the winery, in 75cl, Magnums (1.5 litres), Double Magnums (3 litres), Jeroboams (5 litres) and Melchiors (18 litres).

Celebrating a Century

The very best of Marsovin's grapes, vines and terroir; unique every vintage but always truly exceptional, have been brought together to create this wine. The desire to nurture the winery's exceptional qualities has shaped Marsovin's philosophy over the past 100 years.

Our Estates, Our Wines

Marnisi is a blend representative of the 3 grape varieties on this Estate made from 100% organically certified grapes which include Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Cabernet Franc. Low yields, barrel ageing of the unfiltered wine and a judicious blending to produce a full-bodied wine of noble character and excellent ageing potential.

Louis Latour is a prestigious family run winery in Burgundy founded back in 1797. The Burgundy region offers a diverse terroir unique in the world, known for their legendary Pinot Noir and Chardonnay wines. The Louis Latour style is an auspicious combination of the richness of nature and the skill of man's labour. The wines are a full expression of elegance and balance with the terroir of Burgundy.

At Maison Louis Latour, each wine is imprinted with an individual style that customers enjoy rediscovering year after year.

Château BRUN SAINT-ÉMILION

Winery family since 1571

Descendants of the famous Decazes family, the Brun family have owned the Domaine since 1571. From generation to generation, the heirs ensure the breeding and production of a great wine in the purest form of tradition.

Located on the hillsides north-west of Saint-Émilion, the Château Brun vineyards spread over 10.95 hectares of vines all in one piece, with excellent south-facing exposure. This, combined with the great clay-limestone soil, is at the heart of the estate, giving the vines good natural drainage and more regular ripening of the grapes.

A blend of 80% Merlot and 20% Cabernet Franc, the Château Brun Saint-Émilion Grand Cru benefits from 18 months of maturation prior to being bottled and released.

BODEGA CATENA ZAPATA

Catena Zapata, established in 1902, is the oldest family-owned winery in Argentina, with a dedication to producing exceptional wines. The Catena family has poured its life, passion, sweat and spirit into transforming a scrub-laden, high-altitude oasis in a desert into some of the most beautiful vineyards in the world. Through a blend of family, historic vines, and state-of-the-art viticulture, they create wines that are both spectacular and true to their terroir.

Known for its role in resurrecting, elevating, and transforming Malbec from a forgotten variety to a global favourite, the winery has garnered numerous accolades and holds the most 100-point wine ratings in South America. Their Adrianna Vineyard, situated at an impressive 5,000 feet elevation, is often referred to as South America's "Grand Cru" vineyard. Catena Zapata was crowned the World's Best Vineyard for 2023.

VENICA & VENICA

From 1930 to today, through a series of harmonious generational changes, more than 90 years of passion, sacrifice and success have elapsed in a synergistic relationship between the fascinating Collio and the constant love of the land, the vineyards, and their grapes.

Venica&Venica is a family enterprise with 40 hectares of vineyards all located in a D.O.C. production area called the COLLIO, in the heart of Friuli-Venezia Giulia. Venica's vineyards are located on different hills within the region, each one of which faces a different direction and has its own particular microclimate, giving the wines an incredible complexity.

The production of Collio wines has been an internationally recognised excellence since 1968 with the inception of Collio as a D.O.C. designation. The protagonists of these lands are the white grapes, also known as the yellow gold of Collio.

WHISKY

FROM THE ORIENT

Not too long ago, the Asian whisky scene, at least from the West's perspective, was just rumour and curiosity. Asia's rising crop of whiskies is every bit as good as some of the finest Scotch whiskies. Most were deliberately made in Scotch whisky's image, but added twists which give Asia's whiskies their own distinct identity.

Indeed, Indian whiskies, have been gaining recognition for years now, but just recently seem to be breaking through to a wider audience, led by brands like Paul John. This is produced in Goa, India, which due to its climate, a shortening of the maturation time is required in order to achieve similar flavour profiles to Scotch whisky. This rapid reaction creates an intensely coloured, rich and flavourful whisky.

One facet of the style of Japanese whisky comes from the way in which blended whisky is produced, and the differing nature of the industry in Japan. Despite the recent rise of interest in single malt whiskies, the vast majority of whisky sold in the world is still blended.

In Japan, however, the industry is vertically integrated, meaning whisky companies own both the distilleries and the brands of blended whiskies, and do not trade with their competitors. So, a blended whisky in Japan will generally only contain malt whisky from the distilleries owned by that same company, creating a unique flavour profile.
